Numb. 10710.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday March 10, to Saturday March 14, 1767.

Genoa, February 21.

EARLY Yesterday Morning his Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick arrived in this City from Turin. About Half an Hour after his Arrival he was complimented by the Master of the Ceremonies in the Republick's Name, who renewed the Offer of a Deputation on Behalf of the Republick, which his Serene Highness desired, in the most polite Manner, to be excused from accepting. The Prince will embark, in a few Days, on board His Majesty's Ship Montreal, for Antibes or Toulon.

The late Earthquake has done considerable Damage to the Houses in this City. It has been succeeded by several other Shocks not so violent as the first; and there is a constant Tremor in the Earth, felt in the City and its Environs.

Florence, February 21. The Great Dutchess was churched the Day before Yesterday with great Ceremony; after which she received the Compliments of the Foreign Ministers. The Great Duke and Dutchess dined in state; and in the Evening they went to a Ball in Mask, in one of the Theatres. There was a Promotion that Day of Fifteen Chamberlains, by which the whole Number now amounts to Fifty-eight. The Empress has, on this Occasion, sent a Present to the Great Dutchess of eight Button for a Stomacher, valued at about 1000 Zechins each; and the King of Spain has sent to her Royal Highness, by the last Courier, a Flower for the Breast, composed of Rubies and Diamonds, which was accompanied with a large Diamond in the Shape of a Heart for the young Princess, of a much greater Value.

Hague, March 10. The Prince of Orange entered on Sunday last into his Twentieth Year; upon which Occasion a great Entertainment was given by Prince Lewis of Brunswick to the Foreign Ministers, and the People of the first Distinction of both Sexes.

Whitehall, March 14.

The King has been pleased to constitute and appoint Edward Barker, Esq; to be His Majesty's Agent and Consul-General at Tripoli.
